

Molten Industries Presents

War of Paint

“Splat split sploch!”

Rated T by ESRB

Description

- This game is a first-person shooter based on the sport of paintball. This game will contain a single player or co-op campaign where the player character is on a paintball team competing in a tournament against their rivals. During the campaign the player can customize their character and their gear, including body armor, masks, paintball guns, paint used as ammo, and assorted perks. The game will also include an online and co-op multiplayer where the player can form online teams and compete against other teams in tournaments. The player will have classes and ranks. The player can also customize a character and their gear, identically to the campaign.

XBOX Marketplace

- The game will be released as a free demo on the Xbox Live Marketplace to test popularity. The demo will have the first level of the campaign and 15 minutes of multiplayer mode.

